Introduction

Bethann Doherty Commercial Director

Welcome to the 2021Pharmaforce Salary Guide.
The aim of this guide is to provide a comprehensive overview and insight into current salaries and benefits within the Pharmaceutical and Medical sectors across Ireland.

The data provided is based on an annual review of the salary information we have gathered within the last 12 months. We review employee salaries across a range of disciplines, their associated skills, level of experience etc. We also use market intelligence and data captured from within the market throughout the year to feed into our report.

2020 was a turbulent year for our industry, with Covid-19 forcing us to change our ways of working. We saw an overnight shift in how we communicate - internally within our own organisations but more importantly, how we communicate with Health Care Professionals. We saw first-hand, commercial and medical teams having to instantly adapt their skillset and engage in a virtual world with HCP's. Through our Training Division, Pharmaforce supported several local and International companies by virtually educating, upskilling and equipping teams to learn how to adapt to their new way of working.

We foresee this multichannel approach continuing, and the traditional Rep role inevitably becoming more Hybrid - utilising a host of channels to engage with HCP's.

We have seen some marginal increases in salaries within a select number of disciplines, and some roles that are currently in greater demand showing greater year on year increases. For example, digital marketing skills were in greater demand in the last 12 months in the industry, than previous years. Medical Affairs and Market Access has also seen a rise in demand for skilled expertise.

Skilled Engineers are in constant demand for Manufacturing and IT vacancies across the industry, with a regular pipeline of work available for those looking to contract or permanent employment. Certain skills such as Scrum Masters or CSV Engineers are in regular demand, with no difference in pay between urban and rural roles.

If you would like more information on specific salaries or virtual training, please get in touch on 086-783 1786 or email Bethann.doherty@pharmaforce.ie.

About Pharmaforce

The types of benefits provided by companies in the life sciences sectors (medical devices, pharma and biotech) vary by role, company size and location. Companies offering base salaries in the lower range, may offer additional employee benefits over the standard ones. The following is an overview of some of the benefits provided to new employees.

EMPLOXEE BENEFTIS

Standard Benefits

Annual Leave

- An average of 25 days with additional days offered after each year of service.

Bonus

- Performance related with amount varying between 10-20\% of basic salary. Other bonuses are fixed amounts and performace or KPI based.

Commission

- Earnings based on sales activity - amount varies from 2-10\% of sales.

Car Allowance

- Primarily offered in roles that require travel for work (€8k-15k PA)

Company Car

- Primarily offered in roles that require travel for work

Health Insurance

- Offered on an Individual basis or includes Spouse and Family.

Pension
